

Town & Country Showcase

Dear Exhibitor:

Plans for the Central New York Farm Progress show are well under way and all indications suggest the 2022 show will continue to grow in both the number of participating exhibitors and the folks coming to enjoy the show. The Farm Show provides an essential service to the agricultural community, and the Farm Show Committee, a volunteer endeavor comprised of many hardworking individuals, is proud to provide this service for our friends and neighbors. Of course, much of this success is due to the ongoing support of our long-time exhibitors, plus the infusion of new products and services from more recent vendors. The CNY Farm Progress Show is a non-profit organization; any excess funds generated by the show are used to fund youth scholarships and educational programs that will foster learning and involvement in the agricultural community.

Attached is the contract information for the show. Please review this material carefully. For your convenience we have made an effort to address your questions /concerns.

Each year the show gets better and offers the public a growing variety of farm and consumer-oriented exhibits. As we regulate the size of the show, we do suggest that you send your contracts as soon as possible. Remember that August 15th is the deadline for your complimentary listing in Country Folks. We look forward to another successful year and hope you will be a part of it!

Sincerely,

Dick Presky

President , CNY Farm Progress Show, Inc.
